

The big birding weekend

With the guest guide and lecturer

Fleur Ng'weno

leader and founder of the famous Wednesday bird walk

October 26 and 27, 2019 - peak bird migration time

Join us at Swara Plains Acacia Camp for a weekend of birding with our guest guide and lecturer Fleur Ng'weno, leader and founder of the famous Wednesday bird walk and one of Kenya's foremost birding figures.

You will get to see and learn about many of Kenya's fabulous birds. Alongside this we shall be running a bird ringing program to monitor arriving European migrants so you will get the opportunity to see and photograph birds in the hand. Also, weather permitting, we shall do some star gazing to gain from Fleur's amazing knowledge of the night sky.

Day 1 itinerary:

- Welcome briefing, tea, coffee and continental breakfast
- Woodland walk amongst acacia trees
- Birding and game drive
- Buffet lunch
- Break and rest
- Talk by Fleur on her life with birds and migration of birds
- Afternoon bird and game drive
- Review and write up of birds and mammals seen
- Saturday night BBQ dinner and drinks
- Star gazing
- Birding chat around our famous fire pit

October 26 and 27, 2019 - peak bird migration time
